Maths and Spelling in your homework books

In addition, you may complete any of the following optional tasks this term and choose how you present them!

DT	Mindfulness	French
Try to build the tallest structure you can using only newspaper and Sellotape.	Take some time in nature to observe what is all around you. What can you hear? What can you see? What can you touch? What can you smell? Breathe deeply and enjoy the moment!	Celebrate 'le Mardi-Gras' (Pancake Day) by making your own 'crêpes'. Take a photo of your fabulous creations.
Science: Living things and their habitats	Science: Living things and their habitats	French: The Weekend
 Look closely at the three images and come up with as many similarities and differences as you can. If you get stuck, think about: Appearance, what they do, where they might be found? Then, decide which one is the odd one out and why. Give a reason for your answer - there is no wrong answer! For a bigger copy of the pictures please look in the Homework box.	Sir David Attenborough – create a fact file about this famous scientist. Who is he? What can you find out about his childhood? What got him interested in science? What was his first TV wildlife programme etc. Try to include some facts that you think we might not already know about him.	Write a diary entry in French describing what you did at the weekend. If you are feeling adventurous, create a presentation in PowerPoint to present to the class.
Maths Challenge	Easter	International Women's Day
The Fibonnaci Sequence is a series of numbers which works by adding one number to the one that precedes it. The beginning of the sequence is as follows: 1, 1, 2, 3, 5, 8.. Investigate the Fibonnaci sequence and use it to create a Fibonnaci Spiral. Please help yourself to paper from the drawer in class if you need it.	Can you make an origami Easter Bunny? Could you make a whole warren of Easter Bunnies? There are plenty of instructions to be found online to help you, we also have plenty of paper in school if you need it. Looking forward to seeing the class over run with paper rabbits.	March 8 th is International Women's Day, an annual event that celebrates all the amazing things women have achieved. It is a way to show how women have and continue to influence the world. Choose an inspirational woman, past or present and tell us why they inspire you! Can be a project, collage or written text.
